

Assignment 5: MongoDB

In this project, you will use the skills and knowledge you've gained to work with MongoDB.

Requirements

- Store information from the contact form on your website in a database
- Find contact information from a particular user and console.log the entire contact form info to the terminal
- Try passing in the information to a pug file and displaying it on the page
- Play around with Compass to double check your database collections